

How to make $50+ a Month with VERY little effort! (A 3-Step guide)

This tutorial is going to teach you how to make some pretty decent pocket cash with extremely little effort. Those who really apply themselves could easily start making a few hundred a month or more! But of course anyone can say that, so I'll show you the logs from just my first two months.

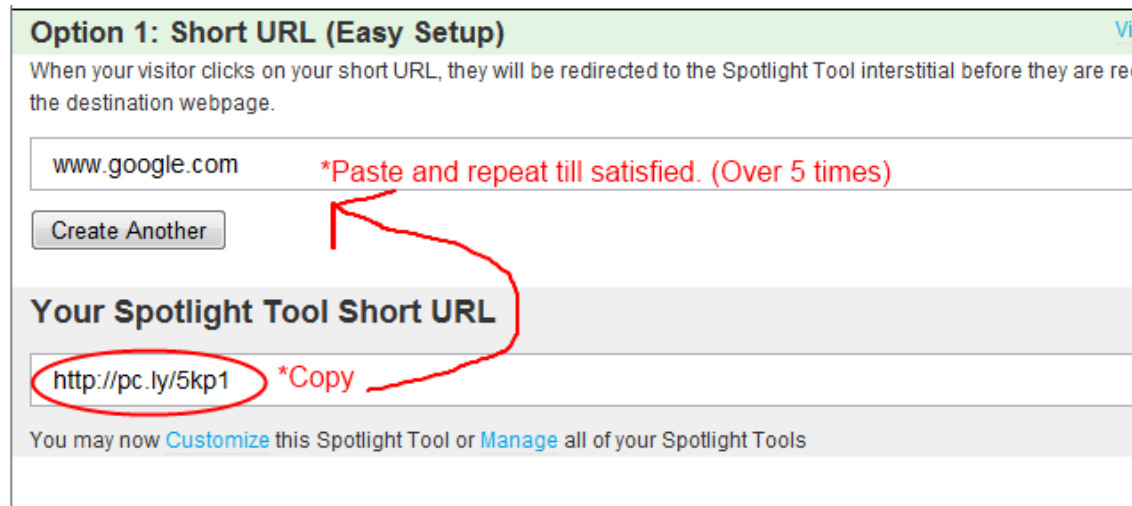

Payment History
Date	Type	Amount
2010-12-15	paypal	$239.96
2010-11-30	paypal	$65.03

Looks pretty satisfying am I right? That's over 3 times the profit between the first and second month! So let's get down to business!

Step 1: You're going to need to head on over to <http://bit.ly/zVTb16> and register an account. Make sure you use legit information or else you will not be able to get paid!

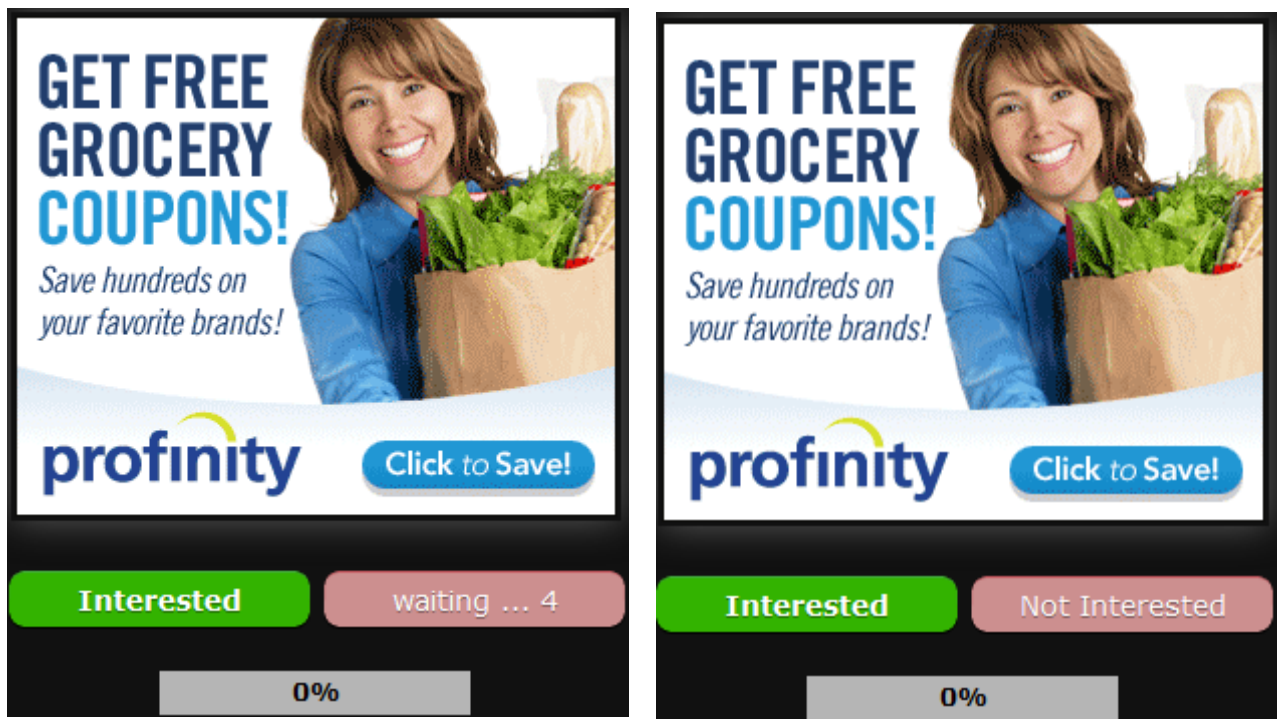

Step 2: Once you're all set up with an account navigate the side bar to Tools -> Spotlight tool -> Create.

Once you're there enter any URL into the Short URL bar and shorten it up. Take the shortened URL and repeat the process a few times. I suggest you do this at least 5-10 times, the more you do the more you will earn.

Step 3: Once you have your chain linked URL pop it into a new browser window. You will see an ad on a timer with two buttons, “I’m Interested” and the timer (which will turn into the “Not Interested” button).

Now since we don't really care about these ads we're going to speed through them with no timer. How you ask? It's pretty simple. Hold down ctrl (command for mac) and click interested (Which will net you more money anyway). It will open the ad in a new window and finish the timer for you, you can then immediately click on Not Interested to move on. After about 3 ads you will be redirected to the destination which we've conveniently set up to be more ads. (If the redirect fails just hit the back button). Once you're done just close the browser and all the tabs in it. You will get stupid "ARE YOU SURE???!?" messages but if you just hold enter it will close them all.

Now head back to cpalead and check out your earnings in the top right. You've got money!! If you don't see it yet be patient, stuff takes a little while to verify out and things can sometimes be slow (though I've never had it take more than a few minutes). Do this a few times a day and you'll be surprised how quickly it adds up. If you're looking for a time comparison I'm usually able to get $1 every 5-10 minutes. Hit $50 and you're ready to cash out!

Not enough for you? Let's take a look at a few ways we can maximize our income along with a few general tips.

The Tips

YOU don't have to be the one viewing the ads, though you'll probably earn yourself more than any other individual. However if you can get lots of people hitting your links you'll make a pretty penny faster than you might expect.

With most online marketing methods your success depends heavily on the quality of your niche. With this method that become much less important to your success, although a good nice can go a long way in maximizing your profit.

Play with the length of your link chains. Too many redirects to more ads might make your traffic give up and not finish, but the more you can get them to complete the more you will earn. Think about how badly users will want what's on the other side of your link. If it's some rare internet file you can get away with a little more, if it's some stupid cat picture you'll be lucky if anyone starts past the first ad.

The methods

Youtube:

A great method for getting traffic to your links is to start a youtube channel offering stuff. You can do anything from video games to software to music. Make sure your videos are unique and as quality as possible, and make sure your links eventually lead to what you're offering. You can use torrentz.eu to find just about anything you want. I suggest picking a file host from torrentz.eu that offers both .torrent and direct downloads. The reason you want to make sure everything is legit is because you will be leaving comments and ratings open. If stuff pans out how the viewer wants they will be happy and leave positive feedback (hopefully). This will help gain the trust of other users and net you more loot.

Yahoo Answers:

This one's pretty simple. Find questions to answer on yahoo answers that require links. Shorten the destination (I'd stick to one shorten not a chain) and post away. Make sure you write quality answers so you get picked as the best answer, that way future viewers will follow your link as well.

General internet usage:

Whenever you post a link anywhere from now on make sure you shorten it with the spotlight tool. You can use forums/chat rooms/whatever it is you do on the internet. Just get those links out!

A Note: There are also survey tools you can use to get money on this website. While you will earn more with them it's harder to get people to do them (because seriously... fuck surveys everybody hates them). If you have content that people really want you can make quite a bit with them, but it will be more work. If you're interested in this I suggest you look up some tutorials as this one will not be covering it. Combining the two methods properly can get you some serious income.

Now get out there and make me proud!

Tutorial provided by Meh. (with the period) from hackforums.net